ALUMINUM IN VERMONT.

Reported Discovery of Rich Deposit on Spruce Peak, Near Arlington.

Marlboro, June 13.—A deposit of aluminum has been discovered in Vermont, on land owned by Olin P. Walker of Marlboro, Mass., and steps will be taken by Mr. Walker at once to mine it. The deposit is situated on Spruce peak, one of the smaller mountains of Vermont, three miles north of Arlington, which is in the township of Manchester, Vt.

Marcus M. Muller, an expert mineralogist, went to Arlington at the request of Mr. Walker, and in company with an expert from Pittsburgh, went over the entire deposit, the dimensions of which are about two miles by two and one-half miles.

The richest part of the deposit, Mr. Muller says, is in a ledge which rises sheer along the face of the mountain for a distance of 800 feet. Test pits were made all over the deposit and the ore taken out yielded from 54 to 87 per cent aluminum, it is said. The slate schist containing the mineral, Mr. Muller says, is the best he has ever seen, and so much of it being over the ground in plain sight it will be a comparatively easy matter to mine it.

ROCKEFELLER WOULD HAVE TAKEN THE CHECK

The Oil King Hurriedly Escapes for Numerous Automobile Trips, But Fears Reporters and Anarchists.

New York, June 13.—A Paris cable dispatch to The Sun says:

John D. Rockefeller is spending most of his time at Compiegne in making long automobile trips. He issues hurriedly from his residence in order to escape interviewers. He saw Monday a copy of the Matin, in which it was stated that his son-in-law, Mr. Strong, had refused an offer of $10,000 for a 15-minute interview with him. Mr. Rockefeller smiled grimly and said that if he had been in Mr. Strong's place he would have accepted the check.

The local police of the little town of Compiegne are much perturbed. They have received letters to the effect that anarchists are watching Rockefeller's movements. Strangers loitering near his residence are requested to produce their papers or to move on immediately.

MRS. COREY WANTS DIVORCE.

The Wife of the Steel Magnate Files a Petition.

Reno, Nev., June 13.—Mrs. William Ellis Corey, wife of the president of the United States steel corporation, filed a petition yesterday in the second district court of Nevada at this place for an absolute decree of divorce.

The domestic troubles of the Coreys came before the public last December, when the steel magnate, answering a report that he and his wife had separated and that he intended to marry Mabelle Gilman, the actress. Corey decided not to sue for a divorce and stated that he would not oppose legal proceedings. Pittsburgh society was considerably aroused by this statement and invariably sided with Mrs. Corey. It was reported that, owing to the quarrel, Mr. Corey would resign the presidency of the steel corporation. This report proved unfounded, however. And later, too, Mrs. Corey decided not to sue for a divorce, Mr. Corey promising to break with the actress. This agreement, it is said, was for the sake of their son. In February, however, Mrs. Corey decided to sue and left for Nevada to secure divorce.

WAIL FROM WASHINGTON.

Women Society Leaders Gone, Cigarette Trade Falls Off.

Washington, June 13.—One of the most amusing aspects of the exodus to the seashore that has been begun by the fair members of Washington social circles is that it has led to a distinct loss of trade for the tobacconists. The demand for cigarettes in the national capital the past winter has been brisk, but with the departure of society folk for the resorts it has fallen off.

The tobacconist's experience is that while the male consumers of tobacco lay in a stock for the summer before they leave Washington, the women buy cigarettes wherever they chance to be. The result is the Washington retailer loses all their trade for the summer months.

The reading of reports and the election of officers were the principal matters of business.

BY LOWER COMPETITORS

Boston Nationals Win from St. Louis While the American League Team Lost to St. Louis Browns.

The three leaders of the National league all took defeat yesterday, Chicago going down before Brooklyn in a 1 to 0 defeat, through failure to bat. Pittsburgh took a 2 to 0 whitewash from Philadelphia, although they batted by far the stronger. And finally the New York Giants were easily defeated by Cincinnati, 6 to 1. For a change the Boston Nationals won a game, defeating St. Louis 5 to 2.

The two leading teams in the American league also took a tumble. New York lost to Cleveland in a close game and the latter slipped back into second place thereby, with the assistance of Detroit, which defeated Philadelphia. Collins' men were woefully weak at St. Louis, being smothered, 15 to 3.

GIRL'S GREAT SWIM.

Miss Kellerman Goes 23.598 Miles in 3 Hours and 11 Minutes.

Vienna, June 13.—On a trial swim in the Danube yesterday, Miss Annette Kellerman, the beautiful girl who holds the swimming championship of Australia, beat all records. She swam thirty-eight kilometers, 23.598 miles, in 3 hours and 11 minutes.

Large crowds on the shores watched the fair swimmer, as with bold, decisive strokes she cut her way through the waters of the broad yellow stream. She was greeted with cheers when she finished her remarkable trial of speed and endurance.

WITTY RETORTS IN THE HOUSE.

A Tilt Between Butler and Randall—Reed's Reply to Springer.

During the famous deadlock fight in the House over the civil rights bill General Benjamin Butler favored a Sunday session. "Bad as I am, I have some respect for God's day," replied Sam Randall of Pennsylvania.

"Don't the Bible say that it is lawful to pull your ox or ass out of a pit on the Sabbath?" asked Butler. "You have thirty-seven acres on your side of the House and I want to get them out of this ditch tomorrow. I think I am engaged in holy work."

"Don't do it," replied Randall. "I expect some day to see you in a better world."

"You'll be there as you are here, a member of the lower house," flashed back the general, with telling effect.

During the bitter fight against "Reed rules" the House was thrown into convulsions by General Spaulding, who, pointing to the painting of the "Siege of Yorktown" hanging in the hall, gravely accused Speaker Reed of counting the Revolution in the background of the picture in order to make up a quorum. The general always wore a tremendously high collar, so high in fact that Representative Tim Campbell tapped it one day with the ferrule of his cane and inquired, to the amusement of the House, "Is General Spaulding within?"

One of the most famous of Reed's retorts was made at the expense of Springer of Illinois. The "Maine Giant" had just read one of Springer's own speeches in refutation of the latter's argument, just concluded. The Illinoisan launched into philosophy upon the privilege of progressive thinkers to change their opinions.

"I honor them for it," he continued. "An honest man is the noblest work of God. As for me, Mr. Chairman, in statesman, I would rather be right than be President."

"The gentleman from Illinois needn't worry, Mr. Chamberlain," drawled Reed. "He'll never be ci—ther!"—American Magazine.

"WHO IS BISHOP POTTER?"

British Embassy in Washington Wants to Know, You Know.

Washington, June 13.—"Who is Bishop Potter?" was the British embassy's reply when inquiry was made there yesterday as to what view was taken of the bishop's observation that "there is no love lost between Great Britain and America."

Neither Ambassador Durand nor his attaches were willing to talk for publication, but it was hinted at the embassy that the bishop's remarks should not be taken too seriously, and that in the opinion of the British diplomats the friendship between Great Britain and America had more of reality to it than is usual between nations.

One attaché said it was difficult to define friendship between nations, that it was different from friendship between individuals. He believed, despite commercial rivalry, that there was a bond between England and America which was growing firmer. The sympathy of England with America was indicated when the English squadron lined up alongside Dewey's fleet at a critical time in Manila bay. The fraternization of British and American naval men the world over whenever opportunity offered was also cited.

ELLEN TERRY JUBILEE.

Remarkable Programme Offered at Drury Lane.

London, June 13.—The all-night vigil of the admirers of Ellen Terry who were anxious to get into Drury Lane theatre to witness her jubilee matinee performance yesterday afternoon, ended in the disappointment of hundreds, who after braving a twenty-four hours' wait outside the pit and gallery entrances, failed to obtain admittance. The house was filled soon after the doors were opened at 10:30 a. m.

The remarkable programme for the jubilee contained the name of practically every stage star now in London. Probably such a galaxy of stage talent was never before seen in combination, as for hours occupied the boards in honor of Miss Terry. Signora Duse, Mme. Rejane, and the two Copequans came over from France, and Mme. Melba and Signor Caruso were down for songs, while the chief feature was the cast of the first act of "Much Ado About Nothing," in which twenty-three members of the Terry family, headed by Ellen Terry herself, appeared.

DID NOT SEND SHAW

President Not in the Iowa Campaign

SUPPORT OF PERKINS

Contradicted—Denial Issued From the White House—Roosevelt Likely to Ask the Secretary to Explain Story.

Washington, June 13.—Positive denial was made at the White House yesterday of the story generally printed in Iowa yesterday morning of the authority of Secretary Shaw, that that official is going to Iowa by direction of the President to speak in behalf of George D. Perkins, the "standpat" candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. Standpat papers in Iowa and in the Middle West generally have been attempting to make capital out of the story that the President was fighting for Mr. Perkins against Governor Cummins, the originator of the Iowa revision-of-the-tariff-by-its-friends idea. This information, when communicated to the White House, elicited an immediate and unequivocal denial of the whole story.

It was explained by Secretary Lusk that Secretary Shaw had nothing to President Roosevelt about the purpose of his visit to Iowa. Mr. Shaw had an engagement to speak in Syracuse, where he had been invited to appear by Chancellor Day. When he decided to go to Iowa instead and make a speech for Mr. Perkins in the last pivotal county of that state he found that it would be necessary to remain away from Washington several days longer than if he had gone to New York. He therefore called on the President, as it is usual in such cases, to tell of his contemplated absence and to inquire if any public business requiring his attention was likely to come up in the meantime.

"I do not believe Secretary Shaw has said in any letter or telegram to Iowa that he is going there to represent the President," said Secretary Lusk. "He is not authorized to speak for the President, and did not consult with the President except about the matter of getting away from Washington. The President is taking no part in the Iowa contest."

It appeared that Secretary Shaw is really responsible for the story printed yesterday morning, as is stated by some of the Iowa papers, the President will unquestionably ask for an explanation. The attitude of the White House in the premises is one of extreme displeasure.

RATE BILL DEBATE.

House Wrangles Over the Sleeping Car Clause.

Washington, June 13.—In accordance with the plan determined upon by the House leaders last week, Mr. Dabell (Rep. Pa.) at the opening of the session of the House of Representatives yesterday offered a resolution from the Committee on Rules providing that the railroad rate bill shall be sent again to conference without instructions to the conferees. The parliamentary situation will be changed by the adoption of this resolution, as it will give the House conference control of the bill and accompanying papers.

This is due to the fact that the Senate asked for the conference; the first one was asked by the House. When the conferees shall have agreed the House will first act upon the report.

The previous question on the passage of the resolution was seconded, 188 to 22.

Mr. Dabell briefly explained the provisions and effect of the proposed rule, and the situation created thereby.

After some debate the resolution was agreed to, 184 to 99, and the Chair announced the reappointment of Messrs. Hepburn (Rep. Ia.), Sherman (Rep. N. Y.) and Richardson (Dem. Ark.) as conferees on the part of the House.

WORKING ON BEEF BILL.

House Committee Discussing Inspection.

Washington, June 13.—The House Committee on Agriculture continued its task of getting together on a modification of the Beveridge meat inspection rider to the agricultural bill today. Consideration was devoted in the main to the question of the extent of the inspection, whether it shall be to the butcher who may kill a very limited number of animals and dispose of them over a State line, thus engaging in interstate commerce. It is said by members to be very difficult to draw the line in this regard. Members of the committee say a final conclusion may be reached as the result of continuous work today.

TO RESTORE HAZARDS.

Senate Passes Bill Affecting Seven or Eight Miles.

Washington, June 13.—A bill authorizing the President to reappoint to the naval academy such of the midshipmen recently dismissed for hazing as in his judgment may be restored without prejudice to the interests of the naval service was yesterday reported to the Senate from the committee on naval affairs. It was obvious that the sentence of dismissal in several of the cases was too severe for the offenses, but the law was mandatory. The bill will permit the restoration of those convicted of mild hazing.

The bill was passed by the Senate after an explanation by Chairman Hale that but seven or eight midshipmen would be affected.

NEW STATEHOOD CONFERENCE.

The Senate Has Withdrawn Conference Report.

Washington, June 13.—The Senate has withdrawn the conference report on statehood and will ask for another conference.

Tillman Bill Referred.

Washington, June 13.—The Tillman bill prohibiting corporations from making campaign contributions under penalty of a fine, which the Senate passed, has been received by the House and referred to the committee on election of president, vice president and members of Congress.

TRYING TO CHECK BRYAN BOOM.

Hearst Men Would Have Him Received as a Citizen.

New York, June 13.—As the result of a meeting held in the Hotel Victoria under the auspices of the Commercial Travelers' anti-trust league, a committee of ten to prepare the plan and scope of the reception to be tendered to William Jennings Bryan will be appointed by William Hoge, president of the league. It became evident at the meeting that the Hearst faction is still anxious to sidetrack the whole affair or at least to get up a reception on its own account that will welcome Bryan as a citizen rather than as a prospective presidential candidate. Colonel Alexander Troup, national committeeman from Connecticut, said he favored having all branches of the Democratic party represented at the reception, and not alone those who supported Bryan in 1896 and 1900. A letter was read from Governor Foltz of Missouri, who said that he should be glad to act as chairman of the committee on reception if he could arrange matters so as to be in New York when Mr. Bryan arrived.

GIVEN FREEDOM.

Expected Terranova Girl and Husband Will Be Reconciled.

New York, June 13.—Josephine Terranova, the young Italian woman who was acquitted of the murder of her aunt, Conchetta Riggio, and over whose head there still hangs an indictment for the murder of her uncle, Gaetano Riggio, was set free yesterday by Justice Scott in the criminal branch of the supreme court.

Assistant District Attorney Ely made a brief motion that Josephine Terranova be discharged in the custody of her counsel. "Motion granted," said Justice Scott, and the court proceedings in the case were ended.

The girl, with her two sisters, entered a cab and was driven rapidly up town. According to former Judge Palmieri, the girl was to be driven to the home of Father Lavelle, rector of St. Patrick's cathedral.

There it was said, her husband, who repudiated her after learning of her conduct with her uncle, would be waiting. It was expected that a reconciliation would be effected, and that Father Lavelle would be asked to bless the reunion of the pair.

ADDICKS GETS ONE VOTE.

Du Pont's Election as United States Senator Practically Unanimous.

Dover, Del., June 13.—The Delaware legislature at noon elected Col. Henry A. Du Pont United States senator for the constitutional term beginning March 3, 1905. His election was practically unanimous, as the Democratic members voted blanks and all the Republicans save one voted for him. The exception was senator Thomas C. Moore of Kent county, who has made such a long and bitter contest for the place.

Col. Du Pont is sixty-eight years of age and a native of Delaware. He is the head of the great powder works bearing his name and is very wealthy. He served throughout the war of the rebellion, and was awarded a congressional medal of honor for "most distinguished gallantry in action."

STABBED IN ABDOMEN, BUT HIDES ASSAILANT

"I'm No Carey." Declares a Badly Wounded New Yorker When Pressed to Name the Assaulter.

New York, June 13.—With a stab wound in his abdomen which probably will prove fatal, James Gilmore of Havercrux, N. Y., walked into Bellevue hospital early yesterday, supported by his father. He was taken to a surgical ward and the operation of laparotomy was performed in the faint hope of saving his life.

Gilmore refuses to tell anyone who stabbed him, but admits that he received the wound in a fight in a saloon in East Forty-first street near Third avenue. "I'm no Carey," Gilmore said, using the name of the Fenian informer as his most emphatic synonym.

"I'll fix him when I get out of here," the police claim to have learned that Gilmore was stabbed by a man known as "Rocky" Kelly, and say he will soon be arrested.

Dillonville, O., June 13.—Conditions in mining circles here are the same as Monday. FORCES AT PORTLAND FORTS IN SUPPOSEDLY HOSTILE ACTION.

Portland, Me., June 13.—The mine war manoeuvres, which began Monday at Forts Preble and Williams, were continued yesterday, with the forces at the two forts arrayed in supposedly hostile camps. Col. William F. Stewart, U. S. A., is commanding Fort Williams, and Major W. S. Rafferty is camp commander of the Fort Preble forces. Operations began at 8 a. m. yesterday and will continue 24 hours.

The line of operations is a series of attacks upon each fort, and to win the attacking forces must equal or outnumber the men attacked. The senior officer is umpire. The attack of the party is required to penetrate within 100 yards of the opposite force.

During the forenoon a platoon from Fort Preble made a sortie on the front of Fort Williams, and was repulsed by the 74th company. Fort Preble forces also made demonstrations at the northwest and southwest boundaries of Fort Williams, but were repulsed.
